Final Word Once again the Rising Stars competition has proven itself to be the velvet and hard antler event of the year, I applaud the organisers past and present for their continued commitment in making the competition what it is today. The Rising Stars has fast become the catalyst for most deer farmers looking at the line-up of heads and therefore making their own critical decisions as to which new or old sires to utilise in their own breeding programmes. Here you have the ability to see which sire stags and breeding lines would work with what you are attempting to achieve within your own herds.

I take this opportunity to wish you well with your breeding programmes and hope that you will consider XCELL Breeding and Veterinary Services to provide you with our services; I look forward to seeing you in your deer shed this season.

Cheers
Greg McKay
